1. INTRODUCTION

The city of Girona is constantly evolving to become more inclusive and accessible for all—citizens and visitors alike. We want everyone to be able to enjoy it fully.

With that in mind, we have published this guide on “Tourism for All”. Its objective is to centralise information on accessibility—in relation to the city's tourist attractions—and make it more readily available.

The city's mobility, transport services, public information services (Tourism Offices), museums, heritage and accommodation have been analysed so that we can highlight the services and facilities adapted to persons with physical, auditory, visual and intellectual disabilities.

The aim of this guide is to centralise this information and make it readily available so that it may be used when planning one's visit to the city, in order for it to be enjoyed fully, with no limitations.

This information has been obtained thanks to the work carried out within the framework of the transnational NATURA'ACC project, financed by the European POCTEFA 2007-2013 project.

4. GETTING AROUND

4.1. MOBILITY IN THE CITY

Girona is an accessible city, with short distances and transport options for going further afield.

Since 1998, when Girona's first Accessibility Plan was approved, and following its later revision and update in 2013, work has been carried out to improve accessibility in the city's public spaces. This has involved different aspects such as widening pavements, adding curb ramps and acoustic signalling for pedestrians, designing and installing street furniture, etc.

In general, accessibility in most of the city's tourist areas is good, except for part of the Historic Quarter and particularly the Old Jewish Quarter, which has steep slopes, cobbled streets and several sections with stairs. The most commercial sectors, such as Mercadal and Eixample, offer good accessibility, with wide pavements and dropped curbs for pedestrians. Most of the city's streets have a slope of less than 6%.

The company Bosch Ortopèdics provides a scooter rental service for visiting the city (by day, week or longer periods). Scooters can be delivered and picked up from the users' chosen location. For further information please contact:

4.4. LOCAL BUS ROUTES

Girona has 10 local bus routes which enable visitors to move around all its different neighbourhoods easily. Single tickets and travel cards can be purchased from the bus driver when boarding

All the city's bus lines are partially adapted to persons with reduced mobility (lifts and/or ramps). Minimum guaranteed frequency: every 30 minutes (generally every 15 minutes). Many of the city's bus stops are adapted for wheelchair access (pavement, platform, etc.), but not all of them.

5. WHAT TO DO?

5.1. HISTORIC CITY

5.1.1. THE FORÇA VELLA

In the first century BC, the Romans built a mighty fortress with an almost triangular perimeter (a kind of acropolis) which is known as Força Vella. The fortress was very well protected by a defensive rampart built from large stone ashlars. This was the first city enclosure and it remained unchanged until the year 1000. Parts of this wall can still be seen today.

This district is found on the hill in the Old City. Due to its irregular terrain and steep, cobblestone streets, the area is rather difficult in terms of mobility for those using wheelchairs, have reduced mobility or are visually disabled. It can be accessed from Carrer de la Força, a kerb-less pedestrian street with slopes ranging from 8 to 12%, which crosses the Força Vella district from end to end.

5.1.2. THE CATEDRAL

The Cathedral is located at the heart of the Força Vella. Built between the 11th and 18th centuries, it includes a series of walls and spaces in different styles, from Romanesque (the cloister and Charlemagne tower) to the baroque façade and steps. Its most singular feature is its large Gothic nave (15th-16th centuries) which, at a width of 23 metres, is the widest of its kind in the world.

Information about accessibility: see section 5.2.7 Cathedral Treasury Museum.

5.1.3. SANT PERE DE GALLIGANTS AND SANT NICOLAU

The grandeur of the temple, with its basilical plan, and the iconographic interest of the capitals in the central nave and the cloister of this Benedictine monastery (12th century), which is today used as a museum, together with the church of Sant Nicolau (now an exhibition room), form one of Catalonia's most important Romanesque sites.

Information about accessibility: see section 5.2.5. Museum of Archaeology.

5.1.4. THE ARAB BATHS

A singular Romanesque construction (12th century) inspired by Roman baths, its most outstanding elements include the entrance, which was used as a changing room and relaxation area and is covered with a barrel vault, and the cupola covering the central pool, which is supported by slim columns with ornately decorated capitals.

There are no accessible parking spaces less than 250 m away, due to the difficulties of navigating the streets, with irregular cobblestones and slopes between 8% and 12%.

5.1.5. BASILICA OF SANT FELIU

Girona's first cathedral until the 10th century is one of its most representative Gothic buildings, above all the slender bell tower (14th-16th centuries). With its castle-like appearance, the Romanesque chevet was completed with Gothic naves and a baroque façade (13th-18th centuries). The church houses some remarkable works of art, such as the eight pagan and early Christian sarcophagi (4th century) and the Recumbent Christ (14th century) by the sculptor Aloi de Montbrai.

Pujada de Sant Feliu, 29

17004 Girona

The main entrance can be accessed via a ramp, albeit somewhat difficult. The manual access door is narrow and heavy. The main door can be opened for large wheelchairs (call 972 176 861).

The basilica may be toured easily, excluding the apse—containing the paleo-Christian sarcophagi—, which is not wheelchair accessible due to steps (each step is more than 5 cm high). The nave provides a general view of the apse and sarcophagi.

5.1.6. THE JEWISH QUARTER

Located within the Força Vella, the Jewish Quarter or Call is one of the city's most emblematic areas. It consists of a labyrinth of narrow streets and patios that have maintained their medieval atmosphere. It is one of the best preserved Jewish quarters in the world and clear evidence of the importance of the Jewish culture in Girona.

This district is found on the hill in the Old City. Due to its irregular terrain and steep, cobblestone streets, the area is rather difficult in terms of mobility for those using wheelchairs, have reduced mobility or are visually disabled. It can be accessed from Carrer de la Força, a kerb-less pedestrian street with slopes ranging from 8 to 12%, which crosses the Força Vella district from end to end.

5.1.7. THE MEDIEVAL QUARTER

The medieval city was constructed between the 11th and 15th centuries with new quarters being built to the north of the Força Vella (Sant Feliu and Sant Pere), to the south (Areny and Vilanova) and the west (Mercadal), all protected by new ramparts, of which some sections are still visible today along the city walls walkway.

The boroughs of Sant Feliu and Sant Pere are generally easily accessible, excluding specific areas such as Sant Pere de Galligants which is very difficult to access. The lower side of the Areny and Vilanova areas (Rambla, C. Ciutadans....) is easily accessible, whereas the upper area is not accessible due to steep inclines and stairs. The Mercadal area is easy to access: it has wide pavements and lower access points.

5.1.8. THE VALLEY AND MONASTERY OF SANT DANIEL

From Sant Pere de Galligants you can access the valley of Sant Daniel, a large green area beside the city with shady zones and natural springs. The church, which houses the tomb of Saint Daniel (14th century), created by the sculptor Aloi de Montbrai, and the convent's cloister (12th-15th centuries) are beautiful examples of Romanesque construction with Gothic additions.

Access to the Valley of Sant Daniel is complicated in a wheelchair, as pavements are narrow, in addition to a few sections with no pavement. In the valley itself, there are currently no specific itineraries adapted to wheelchair access, but some of the pathways that cross the valley are easy to move around.

5.1.9. THE WALLS

The extension of the Roman walls during the medieval ages today enables visitors to stroll along a walkway following some sections of the longest Carolingian walls in Europe (9th century). The various towers are excellent vantage points offering views over the city and the surrounding areas.

The walls are not wheelchair-accessible, as there are stairs in several sections.

5.1.10. RAMBLA DE LA LLIBERTAT

This magnificent long stretch along the River Onyar was developed in the 13th century to hold the market and is characterised by its low-ceilinged arcades and unequal arches. It has long been the main commercial and entertainment centre of Girona and contains many interesting buildings, such as Casa Norat, with its Modernist façade (1912).

Good exterior accessibility.

5.1.11. PLAÇA DEL VI

This bustling square is enclosed by arcades, by the so called Palau del General, a Gothic-Renaissance building that housed the Catalan government administration of Girona in the 16th and 17th centuries, and by the City Hall and the Municipal Theatre, a remarkable 19th-century theatre that is among the most interesting in Catalonia.

Good exterior accessibility.

5.1.12. SANT MARTÍ SACOSTA

Girona has managed to preserve numerous medieval and modern spaces with an exceptional atmosphere and beauty where time seems to have stood still. This is certainly true of the space enclosed by the church of the old convent of Sant Martí (17th century), with its baroque façade and the steps in front of it, and Casa-Palau Agullana (16th-17th centuries), which provides one of the city's most unique images with its covered, skewed arch.

This area, which is located on the lower end of the Old Quarter (Barri Vell), is not accessible for people with reduced mobility. Nonetheless, it's possible to get a good view of the church, the stairs and the Agullana Palace from the Plaça de l'Oli square.

5.1.13. PLAÇA INDEPENDÈNCIA

Designed by Martí Sureda on the site of the old convent of Sant Agustí, this is Girona's most popular square. A porticoed square in neoclassical style, Plaça de la Independència is a busy place due to the large number of restaurants here. In the centre of the square stands a monument (1894) commemorating the 1809 defenders of the city of Girona, created by the sculptor Antoni Parera.

Good exterior accessibility.

5.1.14. THE HOUSES ON THE ONYAR RIVER

Girona offers spectacular images of steep alleyways, porticoed streets and squares and, above all, the brightly painted façades of the houses overlooking the Onyar (the river that crosses the city) which provide the most emblematic image of the city. One of these houses is Casa Masó, which is open to the public. Of particular interest among the bridges that span the river are the slender and lightweight Gómez bridge and the Palanques Vermelles bridge (1827), which was built by the Eiffel company.

The houses on the river Onyar can be seen from different, strategic location throughout the historic district. Insofar as the bridges that cross the river Onyar in the Old Quarter, only the Pont de Pedra and the Sant Feliu bridges are wheelchair-accessible.

5.1.15. MODERNIST AND NOUCENTIST ARCHITECTURE

The architecture of the Modernisme and Noucentisme cultural movements can be seen in Girona, a reminder of the growth and transformation of the city at the start of the 20th century. A stroll around the city centre and different neighbourhoods allows the visitor to admire apartment blocks, single-family houses and industrial buildings designed by architects such as Rafael Masó (Batlle Apartment Block, Farinera Teixidor, Casa Masó, "la Punxa" and Casa Gispert Saüch), Eugeni Campllonch (Casa Franquesa), Isidre Bosch Bataller (Casa Furest and Casa Noguera), Joan Roca Pinet (Casa Norat and Casa Rigau), Josep Martí Burch (Auguet Apartment Block), and Enric Catà Catà (Regàs Distilleries, etc.).

Most of the city's modernist and noucentist buildings are located in areas that are easily accessible. The Casa Masó, which is open to the public, is adapted for persons with reduced mobility.

5.2. MUSEUMS

5.2.1. MUSEUM OF JEWISH HISTORY

This museum tells the story of Catalonia's medieval Jewish communities, paying special attention to Girona. Of particular interest is a unique collection of medieval Jewish tombstones from the Jewish cemetery of Montjuïc.

The exhibition can be accessed with no difficulties. Please contact reception to ask how to follow it in chronological order when taking the alternative itinerary via the lift.

5.4. ACCESSIBLE NATURAL ITINERARIES

5.4.1. LA DEVESA AND THE RIBES DEL TER PARK

This route will take you through two of the most important green areas in Girona: the parks of La Devesa and Les Ribes del Ter, both located in the north-west of the city, on either side of the River Ter.

La Devesa is one of the most iconic and characteristic places in the city. It is a large park covering over 40 hectares of land, three quarters of which are covered by plane trees arranged in wide avenues, forming a total of six blocks.

On the other side of the river, the Ribes del Ter Park is a broad open space bordered by riverbank vegetation and located just in front of the Girona Fontajau Sports Hall. The park forms part of the natural area of Les Ribes del Ter, a wetland which includes the banks of the river as it flows through Girona. The fact that this well-preserved area forms part of the city centre makes it very important from an ecological and environmental point of view.

The route, which is about 3,5 km long, is relatively easy and is suitable for people with restricted mobility.

The Natura Local application provides information on the routes included in this leaflet, with videos with subtitles and sign language.

The Natura Local application provides information on the routes included in this leaflet, with audio narration.

5.4.2. HORTES DE SANTA EUGÈNIA

This itinerary will reveal the importance of industry and vegetable gardens (Hortes, in catalan) for the old village of Santa Eugènia de Ter, which is currently one of the most popular quarters of the city of Girona.

In that sense, the route makes it easy to interpret the new uses of spaces: how we've gone from professional market gardens to urban ones; how the old factory has become a cultural venue; how a farmhouse has become a civic centre; or how marginal spaces have been turned into urban wetlands.

This itinerary which is approximately 2,2 km in long, is flat and practicable for persons with reduced mobility. This means that there may be certain isolated difficulties, but the route is usable. Most of the itinerary is on compacted but non-asphalted earth. There are a few areas that are irregular or where there are stones and/or sand.

The Natura Local application provides information on the routes included in this leaflet, with videos with subtitles and sign language.

5.4.3. HORTES DE SANTA EUGÈNIA AND THE MEADOWS OF SALT

This route, shared between Girona and Salt, will allow you to discover the agricultural space of the Hortes de Santa Eugènia (Santa Eugènia vegetable gardens) and the natural area of the meadows of Salt (Deveses de Salt), following the course of the river Ter. Part of the itinerary overlaps with the Carrilet Greenway, which runs from Olot to Girona.

The vegetable gardens of Santa Eugènia are located to the west of the city of Girona, between the neighbourhood of Santa Eugènia (formerly the village of Santa Eugènia de Ter) and the right bank of the river Ter. The type of agriculture practised in this space has evolved as a result of the social changes its surroundings have undergone. The area is currently used for social gardens rather than market gardens.

The meadows of Salt are of great ecological value, and an ideal place to enjoy nature walks.

This itinerary which is approximately 7,5 km in long, is flat and practicable for persons with reduced mobility. This means that there may be certain isolated difficulties, but the route is usable. Most of the itinerary is on compacted but non-asphalted earth. There are a few areas that are irregular or where there are stones and/or sand.

The Natura Local application provides information on the routes included in this leaflet, with videos with subtitles and sign language.

5.4.4. CARRILET GREEN WAY

The Carrilet Greenway makes use of the disused narrow-gauge railway line connecting Girona and Olot (54 km), later continuing to Sant Feliu de Guíxols (39.7 km).

This route is flat and practicable for persons with reduced mobility. This means that there may be certain isolated difficulties, but the route is usable. Most of the itinerary is on compacted but non-asphalted earth. There are a few areas that are irregular or where there are stones and/or sand.
